

We at Sourcetec know how important and costly it can be to purchase fume removal equipment. In an effort to cut down on your cost, if possible, we recommend you install the system yourself. Therefore, we are providing for you in this brochure a list of various fittings, from which you can choose, to install any of our systems. All the fittings described in this brochure are made of galvanized steel, unless otherwise specified. However, for an extra charge stainless steel material can be ordered on most fittings.
